Is solar a good investment in Pittsburgh?

In Pittsburgh, the average resident can save about $1,600 a year on their electricity bills. Solar is a worthwhile investment for most homeowners. You can produce your own energy instead of paying for it from a utility company and benefit from solar tax credits and rebates, all while helping the environment.

Should you choose a solar panel installation company in Pittsburgh?

Getting the right solar panel installation company for your house is a huge decision, but it's one that can reap a lot of rewards in Pittsburgh. Since the cost of energy is getting higher and higher each year, many homeowners are considering investing in solar to save money on electricity for their homes.

How much does solar cost in Pittsburgh PA?

The average price per watt of solar power in Pittsburgh, PA is $2.73/W. These prices are before incentives. After the federal solar tax credit, the final cost will drop by 30%, down to $19,895 for a 10.42 kW system. Many states even offer local rebates and incentives that lower the price further--sometimes by thousands of dollars.

Do I need a solar battery in Pittsburgh?

No, you don't need to install a solar battery in Pittsburgh. Solar panels can operate and lower your electricity bill even without a battery. However, a solar battery might be a worthwhile investment in some cases. A battery can provide backup power and priceless peace of mind in places with prolonged grid blackouts or extreme weather events.

Are solar incentives a good idea in Pittsburgh?

Solar incentives and rebates can cut the cost of installing solar in Pittsburgh by thousands of dollars. The most significant incentive is the 30% federal solar tax credit, available to any taxpayer in the country when they purchase solar panels or battery storage.
