

Are solar panels really free?

No, solar panels are not free. Advertisers claiming to offer free solar panels typically provide a solar lease or power purchase agreement (PPA). In these arrangements, a company installs solar panels on your house for no upfront cost and charges you a monthly rate for the power they generate.

What is a free solar panel offer?

A "free solar panel" offer doesn't mean you will get solar panels for free. Instead, this usually refers to an agreement that allows you to start using solar panels without incurring upfront costs. However, you will have to make payments in the future.

How do I get free solar panels?

Use social media tools such as Facebook, Twitter, and Myspace to let people know that you're looking for free panels. You never know who people may know and it never hurts to ask. Contact government highway departments and road construction companies to see if they have any damaged solar panels that they're giving away.

Does the federal government offer free solar panels?

The federal government does not provide free solar panels, but does provide incentives that reduce the cost of going solar. You can go solar with no upfront cost by taking out a $0-down loan, signing a lease or PPA, or subscribing to a community solar farm. Of the no upfront cost solutions, $0-down loans provide the best long-term savings.

Should you install free solar panels on your property?

Installing "free" solar panels on your property comes with multiple nuances. While you may not incur upfront costs, you will still have to pay later. Here's how it works. Solar power is something everyone on the planet gets for free. However, the process of turning it into usable energy is expensive.

What do solar companies mean by 'free'?

What Do Solar Companies Mean by 'Free'? When companies advertise free solar, they are generally referring to either a solar lease or solar power purchase agreement (PPA). In both cases, a company installs solar photovoltaic (PV) panels on your home, often with no up-front costs and no money down.
