

Can you get free solar panels from the government?

While there are government incentives for solar panels, there are only a few extremely niche programs that can entirely cover the cost of going solar, such as California's Low-Income Weatherization Program (LIWP). One of the most common scams are ads showing "How to get free solar panels from the government."

How do I get a free solar panel?

You can also give us a call at 1-800-SUNPOWER to speak with a solar advisor today. While "free solar panel" offers are common, that's usually not the whole story. Often, it's actually a solar lease or power purchase agreement with $0 down, meaning "free" only lasts until the first monthly payment is due.

Should you sign up for free solar panels?

Unsolicited leads from door-to-door salespeople: If a salesperson knocks on your door offering free solar panels, don't sign up for anything until you carefully research the company and its products. High upfront costs and hidden fees: Avoid signing a contract for "free" solar panel systems if a high upfront cost is still involved.

What does a 'free solar panels' offer mean?

The term 'free solar panels' in offers from solar companies does not mean that they will install solar panels at your house and never charge you for solar power again. Instead, it usually refers to the financing options where you pay nothing upfront and make monthly payments.

Are free solar panels a good idea?

If you're looking for free solar panels, or at least solar panels with less cost upfront, solar leases, solar loans, and community solar are good options. Regardless of its "do-good" image, the solar industry is a for-profit enterprise like any other.

Is the offer of free solar panels a scam?

If offers of free solar panels sound too good to be true, it's because they are. Solar panels cost money, and these ads are, at best, misleading attempts to push solar leases and, at worst, complete scams.
