How many energy storage facilities are there in Massachusetts?

The Massachusetts Energy Siting Facilities Board has approved two energy storage facilities with a combined capacity of 400 MW/800 MWh. This decision overturns previous rulings that hindered the development of these facilities. Once operational, they will fulfill 80% of the state's 1 GWh energy storage deployment target for 2025.

Are solar batteries tax deductible in Massachusetts?

Massachusetts does not have any state-specific tax incentives for energy storage systems like solar batteries. However, homeowners installing a solar battery can still save on their taxes with the federal investment tax credit (ITC).

What is solar Massachusetts's renewable target program?

The Solar Massachusetts's Renewable Target (SMART) program pays Eversource, National Grid, and Unitil customers a bonus for each kilowatt-hour (kWh) of electricity produced by their solar panel system. An additional bonus, or 'adder', is offered if a solar panel system is paired with a battery.

What is the energy storage initiative?

It can improve grid operations, reduce energy costs, provide backup power through storms, and benefit the local economy. The Energy Storage Initiative aims to make the Commonwealth a national leader in the emerging energy storage market requiring a 1,000 Megawatt hour (MWh) energy storage target to be achieved by December 31, 2025.

What storage incentives are available in Massachusetts?

The Solar Massachusetts's Renewable Target (SMART) program pays a bonus for each kilowatt-hour (kWh) of electricity produced by solar panel systems in Massachusetts. This applies to customers of Eversource, National Grid, and Unitil.

Can solar power be stored in a battery?

Yes, solar power can be stored in a battery. Existing solar systems typically have solar inverters which change the DC power produced by panels to AC power. However, to store that AC power in a battery, it needs to be inverted again to DC power.
