

Who is Sol-up solar?

Sol-Up was founded in 2009 by Frank Rieger, a German engineer who came to America with years of solar experience. It was with pure enthusiasm that Mr. Rieger came to Las Vegas, Nevada to pioneer a company based upon principles of engineering and to differentiate Sol-Up from the area's sales-based solar power competitors.

Who is Sol-up & how does it work?

Sol-Up is an all-employee company with no third-party sales or installation. Since 2015, Sol-Up began installing heterojunction technology (HJT) from various manufacturers due to HJT's superior efficiency and performance under extreme heat conditions.

Is Sol-up a solar capital of the world?

Sol-Up is committed to making the western United States the solar capital of the world and envisions the City of Lights being run off clean solar energy one roof-top at a time. This would be a magnificent example to all other areas of the world. Solar power is by far the safest and most environmentally friendly power generation in the world.

What companies does Sol-up work with?

From its inception, Sol-Up has only partnered with top-tier companies such as Tesla, Span, Panasonic, Enphase, SolarEdge and now Meyer Burger. This translates to the installation of state of the art, high performing systems, with industry best warranties.
