

Is Solar Energy World a good company?

Customer experiences with Solar Energy World vary. Some consider them one of the best, while others regret choosing them due to poor service. However, the price point and installation process were praised by many customers.

Who is Solar Energy World?

Solar Energy World is one of the most experienced and stable solar companies in the region. Founded in 2009, they have completed thousands of solar panel system installations. They offer solar panel systems, and you can find reviews, complaints, and cost information for their installations on this website.

Is solar energy world worth the investment?

That's why paying a bit more for a company with a solid track record, like Solar Energy World, is worth the investment. Founded in 2009, Solar Energy World brings about 15 years of experience to customers on the East Coast.

Do you recommend solar energy world?

We have highly recommended Solar Energy World to friends. "After a year, our system replaces 64% of our bill and the money from our SREC sales pays the balance of our annual electric costs with money left over that we put towards our gas bill."

Does solar energy world offer a warranty?

For solar panel purchases, Solar Energy World goes a step further by extending the warranty to 30 years for all parts and labor. This means you won't pay anything for site visits, labor or part replacements during that time. Most companies offer only 10-year labor or weatherization warranties, so tripling that coverage is a big deal.

Where does solar energy world serve?

The company serves six states and Washington, DC. Everhart explained that maintaining consistent quality with a huge service area is challenging and that's why it stays focused on the East Coast. Those outside Solar Energy World's service area can check out other top solar companies, such as Palmetto Solar, EnergyPal and Freedom Forever.
