

Is solid power (SLDP) a good stock to buy?

Solid Power (SLDP -2.21%) was hardly looking like a powerful stock on Monday. The solid-state battery developer's price fell by nearly 10% on news of a departure from the company's C-suite. That decline stood in marked contrast to the performance of the S&P 500 index, which crept 0.1% higher on the day.

Why did solid power shares pop today?

Solid Power shares popped today after fellow solid-state battery maker QuantumScape (QS -1.74%) announced some game-changing news. As of 2:45 p.m. ET, Solid Power shares were higher by 11.2%. That move was dwarfed, however, by the 47% spike in QuantumScape shares at that time.

What happened to Solid Power's stock?

Solid Power's stock price is now down roughly 15% year to date after a rebound last month. This follows news of the CEO's exit this week, which shocked investors. The company is currently ramping up production of EV battery cells and electrolytes.

Is it advisable to buy Solid Power stock?

Solid Power stock may be an attractive investment, but it is suitable only for investors with a high appetite for risk. The company's technology may not work as expected, or a competing technology may work better. Rekha Khandelwal has no position in any of the stocks mentioned.

Is Solid Power a good investment?

Solid Power's asset-light model and backing of leading auto and battery makers make it an attractive investment. Additionally, it could be the first independent battery technology company whose cells enter automotive qualification in 2022.

Why did solid power stock sell off Tuesday?

In the regulatory filing, Solid Power did not provide the reason (or reasons) for Johnson's move. It also did not address the matter of a successor, which is likely one reason for the Tuesday stock sell-off. Investors might have overreacted a bit, as any company is more than just one manager or management team.
